OSH AMENDMENT ACT

EFFECTIVE 01 JUNE 2024

The Occupational Safety and Health (Amendment) Act 2022 (OSH Amendment Act) come into effect on 01 June 2024. The OSH Amendment Act expands the applicability of existing safety duties under the Occupational Safety and Health Act 1994 (OSHA) to most workplaces, and introduces new safety obligations and increases penalties for safety violations.

New Safety Obligations:

PRINCIPAL

- Must ensure safety & health of the contractor, any subcontractor and the employees of the contractor and subcontractor when at work;
- A principal is defined as a person who in the course of or for the purposes of their trade, business, profession or undertaking contracts with a contractor for the execution by or under the contractor of the whole or any part of any work undertaken by the principal;

EMPLOYER

- Must develop and implement procedures to deal with emergencies that may arise in the course of employees' work;
- An employer with at least five employees (except for occupiers of a place of work who are required to appoint a safety and health officer under section 29 of the OSHA) must appoint an employee to act as an occupational safety and health coordinator to coordinate safety and health issues at the workplace; and
- An employer must conduct health and safety risk assessments in relation to any person who may be affected by their work at the workplace. If the risk assessment indicates that risk control is required to eliminate or reduce the risk, the employer must implement such control.

Failure to comply with these obligations will attract penalties, including a fine of up to RM50,000 or RM500,000 depending on the breach.
